BIOGRAPHY

Shiloh Rainwater has significant experience litigating cutting-edge appeals and commercial disputes spanning a wide range of subjects and industries. Prior to joining WTO, he was Senior Counsel at an AmLaw 50 law firm and was based in the New York City office.

His experience includes representing clients in some of the most important appeals in recent years before state and federal appellate courts across the country, including at the certiorari and merits stages in the U.S. Supreme Court. He also routinely handles dispositive briefing and spearheads strategy in high-stakes trials and arbitrations. His varied experience includes representing clients in disputes involving contracts, bankruptcy, constitutional law, labor and employment, real estate, and securities.

Shiloh maintains an active pro bono practice. Highlights include arguing and prevailing at the Second Circuit for an incarcerated client who brought constitutional claims against prison officials. He also achieved a rare victory for a veteran seeking benefits from the Department of Veterans Affairs related to the costs of pursuing an advanced degree.
