HIGHLIGHTS

- Won motion to dismiss $20 million malpractice claims brought in Connecticut against an AmLaw 200 firm. The allegations involved the firm's representation of a client in a bankruptcy proceeding. Drafted the motion and supporting briefs and coordinated the defense strategy for all co-defendants.
- Won a 15-day arbitration and drafted contested briefs resulting in recovery of all attorney fees and the confirmation of the awards for a law firm in a malpractice case arising out of a construction-defect lawsuit.
- Briefed a successful appeal in the Tenth Circuit for an AmLaw 100 firm reversing the denial of a motion to dismiss an adversary proceeding. The appeal involved a statutory construction issue of first impression.
- Argued and won a motion to strike an expert's testimony at an evidentiary hearing at which the plaintiffs unsuccessfully sought reconsideration of an order compelling arbitration.
- Briefed, argued, and won a motion to compel production of plaintiffs' communications with a law firm that represented the plaintiffs in an underlying matter which became the subject of the subsequent malpractice claims against WTO's clients.
- Won motion to dismiss $150 million malpractice claims brought in Nevada against an AmLaw 200 firm. The allegations involved the accuracy of an underlying tax opinion.
- Coordinated and won a motion to dismiss for approximately 20 defendants in a civil rights case against Colorado law enforcement officials. The defendants were represented by firms across Colorado.

BIOGRAPHY

Will Hauptman defends lawyers and law firms in complex legal professional liability matters nationwide. He also represents corporate clients in a range of commercial matters, including breach of contract. During his time in private practice, Will has gained valuable experience drafting dispositive and other significant motions, briefing appeals, and arguing motions both in court and in arbitration proceedings.

Before he joined WTO, Will was a law clerk to the Honorable Brian D. Boatright of the Colorado Supreme Court. He earned his J.D. from the University of Colorado Law School, where he graduated Order of the Coif, served as a Production Editor on the University of Colorado Law Review, and was chairperson of the law school's Honor Council and Barristers' Council, Moot Court Division. In law school, Will provided over 650 hours of pro bono legal services to low-income clients and public-interest groups, including an organization that helps farmers in Colorado's San Luis Valley secure water rights.
